THE UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH

Visiting Assistant Professor of Biology
Department of Biology

The Biology Department at the University of the South seeks a Visiting Assistant Professor or an Instructor for the Spring 2012 semester.

The successful candidate will teach two sections of the department's Introductory Cellular and Molecular class and one section of a non-lab upper level course in the candidate's specialty (3 contact hours teaching time per section). Candidates should be enthusiastic about working in the context of the liberal arts tradition in education.

The University of the South comprises a highly-regarded College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and a distinguished School of Theology. It is an institution of the Episcopal Church that welcomes individuals of all backgrounds. It is located on a striking, 13,000-acre campus on Tennessee's Cumberland Plateau.

Eligibility for employment is contingent upon successful completion of a background screening. Review of applications will begin November 21, 2011 and continue until the position is filled.

Send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, statements of teaching and research interests, transcripts, and three letters of reference to:
